

Selected Posters

- Ahern & Torrens, Theory of mind and Spanish subjunctive: cognitive development & acquisition of subjunctive in L1 Spanish
- Akagi, Scalar Implicatures in Non-monotonic Sentences: Evidence from Japanese Focus Particle -dake
- Amenta, Getting irony: An ERP analysis of pragmatic language comprehension.
- Bott & Frisson, Interpreting temporal order
- Bott & Bailey, Eyetracking scalar implicatures
- Davies & Katsos, Are interlocutors as sensitive to over-informativeness as to under-informativeness?
- Dyzman, Anticipation and valence in irony
- Fossard, Garnham & Cowles, Interpreting Pronouns and Demonstratives in English and French: Accessibility and/or (Dis)continuity
- Fossard, Martel, Courchesne, Routhier & Champagne-Lavau, Linguistic markers of reference to assess ToM deficits during interaction
- Goudbeek, Krahmer & Swerts, Alignment of discriminating properties in expressive preferences for referencing
- Grosse & Tomasello, Do children differentiate real questions from test questions?
- Hartshorne, Pogue & Snedeker, Fear and Loathing in Discourse Coherence: Children use argument structure in pronoun interpretation
- Huang & Gordon, Distinguishing the time-course of scalar interpretation through coreference and lexical repetition
- Huang & Snedeker, Top-down and bottom-up effects of referential context on the interpretation of adjectives
- Kern & Turkay, Communicative intentions in French and Turkish caregiver speech
- Kim & Kaiser, The Role of Korean Honorific Agreement in Null Subject Resolution.
- Lehman, Pragmatic reanalysis and quotation marks
- Nilsenova, Krahmer, Gruijters & Geurts, Coping with presupposition failure: Experimental data
- Panizza, Huang, Snedeker & Chierchia, 'Two...or more....no, two': Three stages in the online interpretation of numbers
- Rakhlin, Presupposition as a probe into children's grammar of universal quantification
- Reichle & Destruel, Focus constructions and ease of processing in French.
- Skordi, Katsos, Marshall & van der Lely, Scalar Implicatures in Typically Developing and SLI Children
- Spotorno & Bambini, Metaphor: Concepts, context and cognitive efforts
- Su & Crain, Children's Insensitivity to Scalar Implicatures in Chinese
- Tavano & Kaiser, The cost of being cooperative: Details of the effort in processing scalar implicature.
- Tomlison, Rising declaratives in time: How temporal context differentiates conflicting functions of rising pitch.
- Wollermann, Arnold, Tielke & Schröder, Interplay Exhaustivity Uncertainty and Pragmatic Focus